ON THE CONTRARY

I've got a voyage ahead of me that stretches away beyond life's seas, and it's up to me to steer my ship and not be late at the end of the trip. But there's some who seem to think that I should let the rest of the world go by.

Now, it ain't occurred to my restless mind that I would like to be left behind, an' let some feller with slower pace go on a-past me an' win the race! And I wisht somebody would tell me why I should let the rest of the world go by.

In fact, I never was much of a hand to trail in last at the jedges' stand. I'd ruther arrive like a lightnin' flash and watch the slow ones end the dash! There ain't no glory, none, says I, in lettin' the rest of the world go by!

KEEP YOURSELF IN HARNESS

Don't let onthin' jar you as you move along yer road, for you'll find it never helps you much to bear yer heavy load; if other people's doin's do not quite agree with you, jes' pass 'em up politely, it's the only thing to do. The toil that goes with livin' sure belongs to every man, an' there's lots of things to pester an' stop you if they can; but don't let nothin' jar you as you toil from day to day, an' you'll find the pesky troubles soon will go the other way. We all have hopes an' yearnin's for to do the things worth while, an' the boulders in the highway sorter make it hard to smile, but I've learnt to keep my temper an' my cuss-words an' my tears, an' to only tell my troubles to the One that allers hears. If you watch where you're a-steppin' you can brush aside the thorns, for the serpent of disaster never strikes before it warns. So with eyes an' ears wide open, meet yer troubles face to face, but don't let nothin' jar you if you want to win the race.
